

NOTICE: Charleston terminals closed due to high winds

Dear Business Partner,

All Charleston port terminals are closed today due to strong wind gusts until further notice. The forecast is for winds speeds to exceed the safe working limits of the empty yard. The piers are not receiving empties due to the high winds and the situation will be re-evaluated later on. This restriction will impact the facilities ability to complete full container moves (Empty/Full).

Please advise your clients of potential delays.
